CSJOA 68TH Annual Training

It is my pleasure to invite you to attend the California State Juvenile Officers Association 68th Annual Training: What's Important Now?

This question is relevant as trends in every aspect of our jobs are changing and evolving at a pace never seen before.

The training will be held at the Lake Natoma Inn in Folsom, California, March 21-23, 2018.

The goal of the Association is to provide those who work with children the tools needed to serve them best. It is our responsibility to protect, guide, and teach the children with whom we are in contact. Our hope is that this training will give School Resource Officers, School Administrators, Juvenile Probation Officers, and Social Workers new skills to enhance their professional delivery of services and offer networking opportunities.

We look forward to seeing you!

Sincerely,

Steve Bennett—President
San Mateo Police Department

WHAT'S NEXT!?

Times are changing faster than ever before, and as school administrators, law enforcement officers, and mental health professionals, we have to adapt to these shifts in society to protect our most precious asset, our kids.

The dynamics of an active killer event or a violent critical incident have evolved, and so must our strategies and training to respond to such events. This is crucial! We owe it to our children, to invest our time in learning and understanding this threat and other threats to their safety.

Training workshops will include:

Ohio Active Shooter Debrief, Hillsdale High School Bomb Attempt Debrief, Legal Update, Drug Update, and more.

GOALS:

- View and analyze successes and shortcomings through active killer / violent critical incident case studies
- Learn the latest recommended response techniques to such events
- Collaborate with the various agencies and organizations tasked with keeping our children safe in schools to see and understand their protocols and practices
- Learn the latest trends in drugs, changes to the law, mental health, and other aspects of student safety.
